Most do not know of the Fifth element, that of spirit or the Deities, which rules as a balance. In Dragon Magick, specific dragons rule these elements and help us through their powers when called. Fire and Air are male (positive) energies while Water and Earth are female (negative) energies. Male and female dragons may appear to represent any element, however. In the world of Dragon Magick, each element has assigned traditional rulers and boundaries to their realms. Do remember that these Dragons possess form and force, and can influence our personalities as well as magical procedures. Each element and its dragon has certain qualities, natures, moods, and magical purposes; each has positive and negative traits which much be dealt with, oversees the Dragons of Fire and the sunbeams. Negative aspects are: rigidity, unwillingness to change or see another side of a problem, stubbornness, lack of conscience, vacillation, earthquakes and slides. The white, black and "special" dragons rule the center of the circle and balance all the other elements into a cool even grey tone of Magick. Through invocation of these dragons of light and darkness, the Magick User is able to mix a blend of elements that will bring forth the desired manifestation. Some would scoff at the idea of a Dragon of Light, mixing energies with a Chaos Dragon or any other "darkly aligned" Dragon. Air governs the eastern quarter of the circle and of the universe. Its and moist. Positive aspects are: sunrise, spring, incense, wand, bell, clouds, breezes, breath, optimism, joy, intelligence, mental quickness, renewing. At this point insert the appropriate chants and workings for the particular spellworking or meditation to be performed. If there is a problem that is unsolvable by physical means or by magic then now is also the time to ask the Dragons for advice on how to solve it. The Dragons are able to give new insight into ways of solving it. Continue to feel their power and direction as their directions are written down. When finished with the spellworking, tap staff three times and chant: I Thank You, Dragons Old And Wise, Of Earth And Fire, Water, Skies, For Set the Wine Chalice on the Pentacle. It discussesAl-enhanced title and descriptionYes, Dragons do exist. Like theElemental Beings, the Dragons possess strong energy that can be known and experienced. In this post, we will get to know better aboutDragon Magick(also known asDraconian Magick), how to make offerings to Dragons, and how to make a simple spell for prosperity and protection involving their energy. In the end, there is also an exclusivePrayer to the Dragonsreceived by us from Santurio Lunar. Table of Contents: Before starting, I would like to explain that this post contains several personal experiences and that they should not be followed as a rule. The Dragon Magick or Draconian Magick is all that magic practised in contact with the energy of Dragons. But after all, who or what are Dragons? Dragons are beings of another dimension that can influence ours directly or indirectly. As well as The Elementals (Gnomes, Undines, Sylphs and Salamanders) and the Fairies, for example. The main difference of Dragons for these other beings is that their energy is much denser and much stronger. In other words, working with Dragon Magick is something intense that brings drastic results and sometimes through hard and somewhat painful means. If you feel that you have a connection with these beings, follow your intuition and start practising Dragon Magick. Think of Dragons as independent, fearless, and extremely strong beings. In this way, they value some qualities that must be taken into consideration before any attempt to contact them: HonestyHonourRespectStrength Never start a ritual for the Dragons or offer something if you have second thoughts; if you are not sure what you really want; if you think you will use the Dragons and then discard them; or if you think they will do all the work for you and you will just watch everything. Not! To work with Draconian Magic you need to be honest, to have honour and to know how to recognize your mistakes and your correctness, to have respect for them and for nature as a whole, and especially to know that they will help you, but you will be the one to really act and live the changes. With us, the first contact to practice Dragon Magick was through a dream in which a Dragon manifested and explained us how everything worked, who they were and what we should do. That simple. At the time, we were going through a very difficult and troubled time, without many perspectives for the future. After the dream, we follow the instructions: Be aware that Dragons are always willing to make bonds with people who are vibrating the same energy as theirs;To create these bonds, simply connect with Dragons, everything will be in a natural way;Create and have images and symbols that refer to Dragons in your home;Create a space or an altar for Dragons; We followed the steps above and opened our hearts, explaining everything that was happening. We lit red candles and got to know the incense and resin called Dragon Blood. They told us that they would help change the situation, but that we would need to make sure we wanted that change. We confirmed our intention. Hence, the process began. From that moment on, we had many dreams and visions involving Dragons. We could feel them in our house, we could feel them on the streets and everywhere. They are really close to us. In a few days, several events happened. Some bad ones, some shocking ones some revealing ones, some disturbing ones it was a series of blows that made us see the situation with different eyes and enabled us to get out of that hole. It was as if the Dragons made us confront those situations and, at the same time, watched us to see if we would be able to deal with the situations. When we reached exhaustion, they gave us the energy to continue, because we wanted to continue! Finally, everything changed for the better. Our connection to the Dragons has remained strong for years and we have not asked for any more help. We just thanked them. A second situation brought us back to Dragon Magick in search of answers, changes, and of course help, some years later. Once again, with all due respect, we showed that we were ready for whatever would come as we knew we were protected by them. And everything happened in a more dramatic way than the previous one. We were about to make a decision that would change a lot in our lives and we thought it was the right decision to make. The Tarot revealed that there were some uncertain things and that there were many confusing messages that needed to be understood before proceeding, but we thought that everything would be solved and everything would be fine. We asked for help and protection from the Dragons. The next day we had the first blow that showed us that we were relying on the wrong person for business expansion. During the following month, we had another series of blows that even made us sick, due to sadness and lack of understanding. Suddenly, everything was clear. We shifted the course of all our decisions to something that we had never considered at the time. A new difficult decision, very difficult indeed, was taken and everything changed again, for the better also. In the ancient region of Mesopotamia, we have theGoddess Tiamat, the Dragon Goddess related to the primordial Chaos from which all creation arose. One way to practice Dragon Magick is also through Tiamat. Learn more about Tiamat, meditate with her and start your journey in Draconian Magick with this Primordial Mother. The story of Tiamat is told in the Enuma Elish, the creation of the world written on the clay tablets found in Babylon, Sumer and Assyria. Get to know some books here to know better all this:Mesopotamian Mythology, Magick and History. There is an incredible Tarot Deck dedicated to Dragons called The Dragon Tarot. This Deck was created by Nigel Suckling and released in 2018. It contains all the traditional 78 cards and theres also an illustrated and coloured 64-page book. Also the celtic dragon tarot by DJ Conway. Like any good friend, giving a gift always does well. Even if they are words or actions, pleasing is never too much. From our experience, the best gift to offer Dragons is red candles on the altar dedicated to them. The flames of the red candles, along with the warmth and light created by them, serve as a way of showing gratitude and also a form of food for them. Whenever possible, light red candles and dedicate to Dragons by placing them on the altar. Dragon Magick is not influenced by the Lunar Phases. But as a habit, if you want to follow the Lunar Phases, follow the scheme below: New Moon: New Projects, Beginnings, PurificationWaxing Moon: Existing projects, action, changesFull Moon: Health, More Changes, ProsperityWaning Moon: Banishing, purifying, eliminating influences Below, I will explain in detail how to cast the simple spell for prosperity and protection we made to the Dragons. If you are asking for constant prosperity and protection, you can cast it whenever you wish. If you intend to bring in changes or to be guided by Dragons, only cast it when you are sure that you are ready to act and make the changes happen. For this simple spell of prosperity and protection using Dragon Magick, you will need: Make sure your connection to Dragons is already established (whether by their calling, by intuition or by Tiamat);The altar dedicated to Dragons is created;The number of red candles you find necessary (we always use 3 at a time);Know exactly what you want: if it is just for prosperity and protection or with those changes included; Leave everything ready to perform this spell on a quiet night when youre not too tired. Start by preparing the altar you made for the Dragons: clean it, rearrange it and place as many candles as you wish. We always use 3 at a time. Focus on what you want, and as you light each candle, call the Dragons, thank them for their presence, and explain why this spell is being performed. Explain in detail, for example: Oh, dear Dragons, I offer these candles, these flames, these lights and this heat as a form of gratitude, and I ask that you always continue to protect us and guide us on the path of prosperity, truth and justice. I also ask you to help me (explain the situation you want to change if there is one). I am ready for the challenges ahead and I know that with you by my side everything will be fine. End this spell by thanking and letting the candles burn to the end. You do not have to watch the candles unless you want to meditate with them. You will probably have revealing dreams right after it and the changes may also begin to happen on the next day. So, I repeat, be prepared! Over the next few days, repeat this spell just by thanking and telling the experiences you are going through. Keep up the habit of performing this spell with some frequency. Dedicate fire to them whenever you can and always thank them, for they will always be by your side.
