This app is better because it has several more languages and the app is easy to use and can be used without mobile data or a WiFi connection. And Im pretty sure Google Translate needs mobile data or a WiFi connection to be used. However iTranslate does not have the thing were you can take a photo and translate it, which by the way I think is amazing so well done Google on that one!! However if several more languages were added then Im sure Google Translate would be my app again, however if some countries dont allow Google in it, then I would obviously understand. Please add other languages!! Because I have a pen pal whos language isnt on here but however its on iTranslate. And I know now days you probably want to be better than people like Apple and Microsoft. But you are, I love all your other apps especially Google Lens. Please sort out my problem and if you could I would be ever so grateful because that would mean when my pen pal sends me a letter I could use the camera translate option to translate the letter I get given, and if you do add more languages he will be able to Translate mine.Thanks much.Noah Ward Hello google translate ok I love love love your app but there is one issue you see my family speak Kurdish (sorani) and whenever my relatives can read something in English and dont understand it they translate it to Kurdish you might be thinking what is your problem? My problem is that you cant scan English to Kurdish you can only type it and I cant type the Kurdish language and that is a big issue for me because sometimes I want to translate my Kurdish books to English so I can understand it but I cant because you cant scan it please make a update Google translate I love your app please make it better (please add all the other languages that you cant scan to have the access to scan and not just Kurdish) To /Google Translate Greeting of peace and prosperity Above all, we would like to extend our sincere greetings for the Google Translate Community. we would like to request our language to be in your site and app , as you see Kurdish-Sorani does not exist in the list of Google Translate, the language is spoken in Northern Iraq Kurdistan Region officially , and at the same time the language is spoken in Iran , More than 45 million Kurds need the language in the world, and it is spoken and official in northern Iraq /Kurdistan Region, government uses the language in all the departments of governmental offices , the language is used in schools and directorates in Kurdistan Region , so please accept our request , it is very important to students and people, even for government and merchants, teachers, students, and so on . We need Kurdish Sorani on Google translate so that we get rid of having struggles inaccurate translation from other languages. Thank you, best regards.
