Faq on pre-employment medical examination why should I go for a pre-employment medical assessment? dedicated employers take their job seriously and know their responsibility well. This means that they are aware of the risks that other employees could bring and deal with them correctly to avoid any type of accidents to workmates. According to statutory obligations, it is essential in some industries and workplaces to ensure that their employees meet the national criteria required for the industry in which they are employed/ seeking employment. What should I do if I had a disease or injury in the past? our doctor will assault the wound caused and find out if there are any further risks to be handled at the workplace, if there are these will be mentioned and the risks will be mitigated, if there is a continuous treatment required, we are pleased to facilitate this. It is important that you answer all questions to the professional honestly about your past medical history. make sure you are not in a position that can cause damage or injury to yourself or your colleagues that your employer or medical examination does not know about. Do I need to bring a document to the appointment? Yes, you need to bring a photo document like driving license to your appointment. you will not be able to conduct medical controllt is. If you wear prescription glasses, hearing aids or lenses, do not forget to bring them with you. What can I wear on my date? There is such a specific dress code for the exam, but most likely you will have to remove your clothing in certain stages as part of the complete medical check. It is recommended to wear proper underwear to perform the urine test. If you need to go for the evaluation of the work fitness, try wearing loose and comfortable clothes and running shoes. What else should I consider for my medical test? The time required varies from one to two hours depending on the scope of the exam. You'll have to change in a suit provided by the clinic. The result of auditory or audiometry tests will have no side effects. However, avoid exposure to strong noises for a few hours before medical examination, as this may affect the test results. Spirometry or pulmonary function test can be required and a Ventolin inhaler can be used during evaluation. It is recommended not to smoke before the medical test. What will happen during the medical examination? The medical evaluation will depend on the needs of the organization and the work profile regarding the tests you will need. In all cases, you will have to fill out a questionnaire and have a physical examination to ensure that you are absolutely fit. Our health professional will examine the neck, abdomen, chest, spine and all joints carefully.A personal examination is not part of a pre-employment medical examination and, as such, the employer will not require such tests. You may be asked to perform screening of urine drug for alcohol or prohibited drugs. These may include – opioids, amphetamines, cannabinoids, benzodiazepines, methamphetamines, dormant tablets. Cannabis could stay inside the body for several days, if it is used regularly for weeks and could also be detected if used occasionally. If you are currently taking the mediation, you must declare on the health evaluation questionnaire as it will be detected later by health experts, and if not disclosed may invalidate the entire doctor. Urine collection will be controlled by our physician to know that the sample is yours at the time of drug screening. This is done in a sensitive way, ensuring the complete privacy of the candidate tested. Try to drink at least 2 or 3 cups of water before going for the urine test. If you dilute urine, this can be evaluated by determining the level of creatinine present in the urine. If the creatinine level is extremely low, the sample should be reconnected to ensure accuracy. Can I get a copy of my medical exams? We have a strict privacy statement for medical tests and exams that are always followed regarding the collection and dissemination of any personal data.
