It can also ensure access to the best-boosting elixirs. To be able to do cooking, you first need to get yourself a residence and buy or make a cooking utensil. You also need to know what materials are required to make foods and drinks since, unlike other games, your character does not learn recipes. You need to do that yourself. In this BDO cooking guide, I will show you how to get a residence, how to get a cooking utensil, where to find recipes, show you an example of cooking, and finally, how to minimize the time needed for each cooking batch. The only way to cook is by using a cooking utensil inside your residence. There are residences all over Black Desert, so just choose one that is in a place that suits you. To get a residence is easy. Just open up the map, go into the town where you want to get a residence, and start clicking on the house icons. When you find a house with the residence option that's in a location you like, you then simply need to buy it with contribution points. The contribution point cost ranges from a single contribution point to a few points depending on the size of the residence. In the image below you see the location of a residence in Velia you can get for a single contribution point. That house in the red circle has a residence for a single contribution point and is located close to the central market in Velia. The red text you see only shows if you don't have enough free contribution points. The size or location of the residence itself doesn't really matter in regards to cooking, only that you have one. So pick one where you spend most of your time in BDO. Personally, I use the one in Calpheon at Market Street 6-1, 2F. I use it because it is right next to the Calpheon storage and close to the central market NPC. BDO's Cooking Utensils After you have invested in a residence you need to buy (or make) a cooking utensil. There are a few different cooking utensils in the game which give different bonuses. The easiest to get is the Basic Cooking Utensil and the Balenos Traditional Cooking Utensil as they can be bought from a Tavern vendor. The basic utensil has no bonuses and 100 durability points, while the Balenos Traditional Cooking Utensil has 500 durability points, but it gets a penalty of increased cooking time of +5 seconds each batch. Of the two, the Balenos utensil is best used for long AFK cooking. The other utensils are listed below, showing both their durability and the cooking time adjustment. Personally, I favor the intermediate cooking utensil as it's not too expensive with decent durability and no penalty to cooking time. When you have acquired a cooking utensil you need to place it inside your residence. While inside your residence, press the P button to access placement mode. Then just choose the cooking utensil and place it in your house wherever you wish. Cooking Ingredients There is a massive amount of ingredients used for cooking, which is far too extensive to list here. However, most of them can be found in the central marketplace or if not there, at least information on how to get them. You should also look at the ingredients which are sold by the Tavern Vendors. A lot of recipes need these ingredients, which is great as these are the easiest to get. These are the most used ingredients which can be bought from a Tavern Vendor. You should get familiar with these as they are used in a lot of recipes. Starting Your BDO Cooking Career When you have gotten a residence and a cooking utensil you are ready to start cooking your first meal. To do so you need to activate the cooking utensil by pressing R while standing next to it. This opens the screen you see below. You now need to place the exact amount of each material for a single batch of whatever you intend to cook. This is important, only place the amount needed for a single batch. Anything more and you will just lose all those materials. The window below shows this for beer as it is usually the best recipe to start on. You can read all about making beer in my beer guide. If you place fewer materials than required in the boxes, the batch might fail depending on your skill. While it is supposed to be possible to place less than the optimal recipe when your cooking skill is really high, I haven't quite found the benefit of it yet as I still fail a few times (at Master 5) and those failures generally cost more than the materials I try to save. Once you have selected the raw materials and entered the correct amount you can choose to run a single batch or go for continuous production. If you want to run multiple batches you can press "Continuous Production" and then max. Doing that will keep your character cooking until he runs out of materials. As an example, to run 500 beer production batches you would need 2500 grains of the same kind, 500 sugars, 1000 leavening agents and 3000 water in your inventory. You would then place 5 grains, 1 sugar, 2 leavening agents and 6 water into the windows as seen above. Press "Continuous Production" and then press maximum quantity. It should show 500 runs and when you press "OK" your character will start cooking 500 batches of beer. Note that as your cooking skills go up you will start getting more of your product out of each batch in addition to a blue version of it which usually last for a longer time and is more valuable. You also get extra dishes which give rewards, which are contribution points, cooking experience, beer, milk, and silver if turned in to certain NPC's. Useful Cooking Clothes. There are a couple of clothing types which speed up cooking and increase the experienced earned while cooking in BDO. These are the Canape costume set and the Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes. The Canape costume set is a Pearl Store Item. It gives you +15% cooking experience and reduces the cooking time of each batch by 2 seconds. Those 2 seconds don't seem a lot but for a batch of 500 those 2 seconds reduce the time total cooking time by 1000 seconds, which is just under 17 minutes. The Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes also increase the experience earned and reduce the cooking time. This is however dependent on the enhancement level ranging from just a time reduction of -1 second for non-enhanced clothes, up to +30% increase to experience and -7 second time reduction for +5 enhanced clothes. When you begin your cooking career, I would recommend you aim for a +2 enhanced cooking clothe as they are not so hard to buy from the central marketplace. Later you can go for a +3 or even a +4 one. Other Useful Items for Cooking An alchemist stone is really useful for cooking as they reduce the time needed to do cooking. The different grades have a different time reduction, but the best grade has a -1.7 second reduction. Tuff bread is also useful for coking as you reduce the mixing time by 0.6 second when you eat it. It lasts for 110 minutes. How to Get a One Second Cooking Time – Minimizing Cooking Time The lowest cooking time you can get in Black Desert Online is a single second. To get to that the following is the method that should cost the least silver. Buy the Canape costume set (-2.0 seconds)Get a +4 Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes (–5.0 seconds)Get a Sturdy Alchemy Stone of Life (-1.1 seconds)Use an Advanced Cooking Utensil (-1.0 seconds) However, getting a +4 cook's clothes can be hard and time-consuming, unless you get lucky in the marketplace. Alternatively, you can aim to get the following to get a 1.1 second cooking time. Buy the Canape costume set (-2.0 seconds)Get a +3 Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes (–4.0 seconds)Get a Sharp Alchemy Stone of Life (-1.4 seconds)Use an Advanced Cooking Utensil (-1.0 seconds) Use a Tuff Sandwich (-0.5 seconds) The best combination possible would be the following: Canape Costume set (-2.0 seconds) +5 Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes (–7.0 seconds) Resplendent Alchemy Stone of Life (-1.7 seconds) Cron Seafood (-0.6 seconds) This combination gives you a -11.3 second reduction. Now, this is something that would only be useful if you use the special cooking utensils. For example, the Balenos cooking utensil would end up taking 3.7 seconds each batch. But honestly, this is pretty bonkers and the cost would be enormous. Where to Find Recipes As I mentioned your character doesn't need to search for recipes to learn them. You just need to put in the correct type and amount of material to cook something. This means that you can simply search on google for all the recipes in BDO, or you can look at the recipes in BDOcodex.com where you can sort the recipes after the desired effect and what skill level is required for the recipe to work. So, there you have it, by following this guide you should be able to become a master cook in no time. Now if you liked this guide then be sure to share it with your friends and allies and feel free to check out my other Black Desert Online guides. Cooking Mastery System On top of all this comes the cooking mastery system. The benefits of a high mastery score are the following: Increased chance to activate Mass Cooking – up to 100%Increased chance to obtain the maximum amount of basic food – up to +61.1%Increased chance to obtain more effective food – up to +19.3%Increased chance to obtain the maximum amount of more effective food – up to +61.1%Increased payment when turning in cooking boxes to an Imperial Crafting Delivery NPC – up to 144.9%. For each level of your cooking skill, you get 5 mastery points. To increase your mastery score further you need to equip special accessories and clothing. The accessories are called Loggia, Geranoa, and Manos, and the clothes are Loggia, Roroju, and Manos cook's clothes. Loggia is the name of the green grade items, Geranoa and Roroju are the blue grade items, and Manos is the orange grade. You can buy the green and blue grade mastery gear from NPC's with the same name in the game, but you need to either buy the Manos gear from the central marketplace or craft your Manos gear yourself. So, there you have it, by following this guide you should be able to become a master chef in no time. Now if you liked this guide then be sure to share it with your friends and allies and feel free to check out my other guides for Black Desert Online. A guide to cooking in Black Desert Online with all the available cooking recipes. Updated July 7, 2016. [toc] July 7 Update Added the following recipes Tuff Bread Freekeh Snake Stew Fig Pie Pistachio Fried Rice Tuff Sandwich Date Palm Wine Couscous Grilled Scorpion King of Jungle Hamburg Valencian Special Hunter's Salad Steamed Whale Meat Whale Meat Salad Getting Started Cooking is an essential Life skill in Black Desert Online that not only enhance other Life Skills but also greatly improve your PvE/PvP experience with a whole array of foods to enhance your combat abilities. Cooking is relatively easy to pick up and many of its ingredients can be used interchangeably so there is usually no need to chase down a specific material that might be hard to obtain. Complementary Life Skills Cooking associates tightly with Farming and Fishing. While you might be able to get by with purchasing ingredients off the Marketplace, it is much more reliable to get them yourself, especially if you are thinking of mass production. Fishing is mostly self-explanatory but for Farming you can consult the guide here. Cooking Setup To get started on cooking all you need a Cooking Utensil purchased from a Chef (use the NPC window and select the cooking button to locate the closest chef). The basic one you can purchase from the vendors will do for now but as you level up in cooking you may want to look into better cooking utensils you can make from Tool Workshops in cities. The better ones will have higher durability, allowing you to craft more in an AFK cooking session and have faster crafting speeds. Ingredient Interchangeability & Quality The great thing about cooking is that in most cases you can interchange ingredients as long they are of the similar type. This means that if a recipe calls for grain you can put in potato or corn and it will just work the same. If it calls for fruits apple or grapes or any other fruits will work identically. You can interchange ingredients in the same recipe as well. If a recipe calls for 4 apples for example, you can put in 2 apples and 2 grapes instead. Additionally, something to note is that ingredients have three tiers of quality. There is the normal quality which is what most recipes are based on. However, there are also High Quality and Special/Top Quality ingredients that are surrounded by a green and blue border respectively. What this means is that you can use less of the higher quality ingredients in a recipe. The general rules are 1 High Quality ingredient (green) = 3 normal quality 1 Special Quality ingredient (blue) = 5 normal quality So if a recipe calls for 5 potatoes for example, you can either put in 5 normal quality potatoes or 2 High quality potatoes or 1 Special potato. Continuous Production The last basic feature to mention is the Continuous Production button on your cooking utensil. All you need to do is put ingredients enough to make 1 batch of the food and then click on Continuous Production. This will allow the cooking utensil to continuously produce the food until it run out of ingredients. However, certain other things can also stop production such as running out of durability on the cooking utensil or running out of energy. Leveling Cooking From Beginner to Apprentice you should be focused on making Beers for your workers. The recipe is as follows 5x Grain (Barley, Corn, Potato, Sweet Potato, Wheat) 6x Mineral Water (purchased from cooking vendor) 2x Leavening Agent (purchased from cooking vendor) 1x Sugar (purchased from cooking vendor) Apprentice to Skilled Starting at Apprentice 1, you start doing some of the cooking dailies in Velia and Olvia to raise your cooking skills (see below). Some of them won't fully unlock until you reach Skilled. Making Beer is still a decent way to raise your cooking levels but you might want to start thinking about making Tea with Fine Scent for the Milk Tea/Sute Tea that you will be able to make once you hit Skilled in cooking. I went over the details of Tea with Fine Scent over at this guide but I will also list the recipe below for reference. 4x Flower (Sunflower/Tulip/Rose) 4x Fruits (Apple/Strawberry/Grape/Cherry/Pear/Banana/Pineapple) 7x Mineral Water (purchased from cooking vendor) 3x Cooking Honey Skilled to Professional Starting at Skilled 1, you can make Milk Tea/Sute Tea so hopefully you have stockpiled a bunch from the Apprentice levels for use. Once again, the details for making these two teas are covered here but for reference the recipes are as follows. Milk Tea 2x Tea with Fine Scent 4x Grain Flour (Barley, Corn, Potato, Sweet Potato, Wheat) 3x Milk 3x Cooking Honey Sute Tea 2x Tea with Fine Scent 2x Butter (shake milk & sugar at 1:1 ratio) 3x Milk 1x Salt (purchased from cooking vendor). Professional+ Doing the cooking dailies mentioned below will give you a nice chunk of cooking XP per day but otherwise it is a slow road from here on out. Make whatever you feel like/need. Cooking Dailies Olvia dailies unlock as you get to Beginner 10 in cooking and they are much easier to do than the Velia ones. However you do need to unlock the final one with 200 Amity with Nadia Rowen. Everyone Loves Cheese Make 2x Cheese by Drying Milk in Simple Processing Rewards: 40 Contribution XP, Recover 3 Energy, Cooking XP. Choice of 3x Milk or Egg A Glass of Beer Make 5x Beer (5 Grain, 6 Mineral Water, 2 Leavening Agent, 1 Sugar) Rewards: 70 Contribution XP, Recover 5 Energy, Cooking XP, Cool Draft Beer. The dailies are from Shelley in the bottom floor of the building to the left of Igor Bartali. You must complete the quest Do You Remember How to Cook? from Shelley first to unlock them. Cooking Ingredients Cooking Ingredients can be classified into several families that can be interchanged in a recipe. Seed Vendor You can purchase most seeds from the Marketplace but incase there are seeds unavailable you can purchase some from the seed vendor in Calpheon, Ahr. She has the most complete seed collection out of any seed vendor. These seeds need to be planted in your garden/farm. Carrot Seed Garlic Seed Grape Seed Hot Pepper Seed Olive Seed Onion Seed Pepper Seed Pumpkin Seed Strawberry Seed Sunflower Seed Wheat Seed Aloe Aloe previously was a pain to gather pre-Mediah but with Mediah has become widely available. Infact there is an Aloe node right now Ahto Farm in Mediah where you can send your workers to gather it. Cooking Honey Cooking Honey can be obtained exclusively from the Alejandro Farm node near Heidel. Eggs/Milk Eggs are a byproduct of Chicken Meat nodes. There are two nodes in Bartali and Finto farm not far from Velia. You can also get them as rewards from Velia cooking dailies and some Olvia cooking dailies. Milk is obtained by milking cows. You can find cows west of Olvia, Falres Dirt Farm east of Calpheon and in Bain Farmland south of Calpheon. There are dailies by each of the farm for milking cows that will reward you with 10 milk each as well. Additionally, you can get milk by turning in one of the cooking byproducts. Grain Barley Corn Potato Sweet Potato Wheat Out of the grain family, Potato can be gathered by workers at the Bartali Farm, Loggia Farm or the Finto Farm nodes all close to Velia. Wheat can be found in Northern Wheat Plantation (east of Calpheon), Costa Farm, and Moretti Plantation south of Heidel. Barley can be found in Northern Wheat Plantation while Corn can be found in Toscani Farm a bit further from Velia. Sweet Potato can be found in Shuri Farm in Mediah. Farming wise, all have seeds taking up 1 garden slot except for Corn which take up 2 slots. Fish vs Seafood Fish and Seafood are not interchangeable in a recipe. If a recipe calls for fish, you cannot substitute seafood and vice versa. Seafoods includes the following Cuttlefish, Squid, Terrapin, Jellyfish, Crawfish, Crab, Octopus, Starfish, Shellfish, Seahorse If you are looking to fish up seafood while AFK fishing, you need to uncheck the throwaway useless items button or all the seafood will be thrown out. You can dry fish/seafood using Drying under the processing (L) menu. Dried fish/seafood won't expire but it will take twice as much in the recipe. So if a recipe calls for 1x fish, you will need to put 2x dried fish. Flowers For flowers the easiest to acquire are Sunflowers as you can mass produce them on a farm. Rose and Tulips can also be gathered manually from Northern Wheat Plantation. Fruits Apple Banana Cherry Grape Pear Pineapple Strawberry Out of the Fruit family, the easiest to obtain are Grapes and Strawberry. Apples can be only picked off Apple Trees in the wild and the rest are solely from a special vendor in Capheon (Milano Belucci). Grapes can be gathered from the Casta Farm node just east of Olvia. Farm wise grapes take up 2 garden slots so it is not the best for farming. Strawberry would be a better choice since it only takes up 1 slot. Meat/Bird/Reptile Meat For cooking, meat are divided into three categories: regular meat, bird meat, reptile meat. They can't be interchanged with each other so you cannot use bird meat when a recipe asks for regular meat. Regular Meat Deer, Lamb, Fox, Rhino, Pork, Beef, Raccoon, Weasel, Bear, Wolf, Lamb, Pork, Fox and Wolf Meat are usually the easiest to acquire. Lamb can be acquired from the sheep in Lynch Ranch while pork can be acquired from the boars around Northern Wheat Plantation.Fox and Wolf meat can be obtained from the area east of Olvia. Pork is also one of the reward choices from the cooking dailies in Velia. Bird Meat Kuku Bird, Flamingo, Chicken Meat The easiest to acquire is Chicken Meat. There are nodes for it at both Bartali and Finto Farm near Velia. Your workers at the Chicken Meat node will also produce Eggs, which is in high demand. Reptile Meat Lizard, Worm, Waragon, Cheetah Dragon Meat Lizards can be found in the swamps around Glish. Waragon can be found underground near Northern Wheat Plantation. Cheetah Dragons are found in Mediah. Spices Spices here includes Garlic, Onion, Pepper, Hot Pepper, and Cinnamon. With the exception of Cinnamon, which is a Mediah addition, the other spices cannot be obtained from nodes and must be acquired from farming/gardening. Olvia cooking dailies do reward them as well but you are limited to 15/day. Cinnamon can be acquired from the Kasula Farm node right next to Tarif. Vegetables Cabbage Olive Paprika Pumpkin Tomato Olive, Paprika, and Pumpkin can be acquired from nodes. Olive can be acquired from Wale Farm node just north of Olvia while Paprika can be acquired from Northern Wheat Plantation. Pumpkins are acquired from Alejandro Farm and Costa Farm west of Heidel. Olive/Paprika/Pumpkin/Tomato can all be grown on a farm as well. All except for Pumpkin takes up 2 garden spaces. Simple Cooking Much like Simple Alchemy, Simple Cooking allow you to make Grain Juices that act as HP potions. The top tier grain juices you can make is even better than the best HP potion you can make and they weigh a lot less. You do not need to use a cooking utensil to use Simple Cooking. It can be done with the Production Activity window (L). All it needs is 3 Grain and 1 Mineral Water for every Grain Juice you want to make. Since you cannot split stacks in Simple Cooking, you just move your character when you want to stop or it will go on until you are over the weight limit. It no longer cost energy to do Simple Cooking so energy issues are no longer a concern. To make better grain juices, you can either place 3 of the lower tier grain juice into simple cooking to make 1 higher tier or use the mass production method where you can 30 of the lower tier grain juice and 1 sugar to make 10 of the higher tier. Make sure you are using the Sute Tea you are making for that 8% more cooking XP. This will stack with the clothes and costumes for a total of 33% more cooking XP. Clothes you can only wear one of the clothes. It goes into your armor slot. Cook's Clothes – Cooking XP +10%, requires Cooking Skilled 10 to wear. This is rewarded once you reach Professional in Cooking. Silver Embroidered Cook's Clothes – Movement Speed +1 and Cooking time decreases by 1s. Crafted in the Costume Mill (9x Cotton Fabric, 10x Powder of Earth, 15x Black Stone Powder) Costumes The Canape costume from the Pearl Store will give you 15% Cooking XP and decrease your cooking time by 2s. This is a set effect so you have to wear all 3 pieces of the Canape costume to get the effect. Alchemy Stones If you happen to get the Alchemy Stone of Life, they will decrease your cooking time. The % decrease depends on the tier of alchemy stone with the top tier giving you a 25% decrease (more realistically you are looking at the most 11% as the top tier ones are extremely hard to obtain).
