Old lady double penetration

I have a confession to make: When my husband Chris is out of town, I tend to act a little...differently. I'll wait hours to shower after going for a run, lounge around the house in my grody workout gear, and eat ice cream straight from the tub. I also always go to bed in my comfiest and most unsexy pajamas (a onesie with a butt flap, thank you very much). I spend so much time bringing my A-game when he's around that it feels a-freaking-mazing to do the complete opposite when I'm left to my own devices. Of course, one time he came home early and caught me in the act. I was standing in the kitchen, eating ice cream with a fork, while working my holey, '80s-cut running underwear, a sports bra, and greasy hair. It was heaven...until he walked in. While I was mortified, it still hasn't stopped me from doing the same thing every time he's out of town. And I'm pretty sure I'm not the only one who has little habits that I keep from my other half. Just to be positive (because I really, really don't want to give up my onesie), I took a survey of my married girlfriends. Here's what I discovered (the names have been changed to protect the not-so-innocent): 'My husband never logs out of his e-mail when he's done and sometimes even leaves it up on our computer. So of course I'm going to look at it. I've never found anything even remotely off, but that doesn't stop me from looking around his inbox and sent folder every once in a while.' — Sarah "Sometimes, I'll check out my husband on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter and spend time looking at what he posted. It's kind of weird, but I guess I'm just curious to see what he's talking about and who he's talking with when he's not with me." —Katie "I've never farted in front of my husband—at least that I'll admit—but sometimes I have a gas problem, especially when I order this one dish I love from a Mexican takeout place near my house that's loaded with onions. I only order it when my husband isn't going to be around for 24 hours so I can fart in peace." —Laney This content is imported from Giphy. I'm paranoid he has one of those apps that tell you when someone's been on your phone—but apparently not paranoid enough." —Amy "My husband is big on recapping his workday in detail when he gets home. It's so boring, so I usually tune him out. I discovered that I can say the right things at the right time by reading his facial expressions. If he looks upset, I'll just say something like, 'I'm sorry,' when he stops talking. He thinks I was listening the whole time." —Erin Here are a few other things many married women do but would never own up to: Throw out your husband's ratty Homer Simpson boxers when he's not around and then pretend to help look for them when he starts panicking about not being able to find them. Watch the next episode of The Walking Dead without your man, but pretend to be shocked at the twists and turns when you watch again with him. This content is imported from Giphy. You may be able to find the same content in another format, or you may be able to find more information, at their web site. "Forget" to unload the dishwasher, take out the trash, or make the bed, so he has to do it. Polish off the leftovers from the night before and then play dumb about their whereabouts. Talk for ages about how "stressed" and "overwhelmed" you are, so he volunteers to take on your regular chores. This content is imported from Giphy. You may be able to find the same content in another format, or you may be able to find more information, at their web site. Speed through sex because you really, really want to be done in time for the new episode of Keeping Up With the Kardashians. So, okay, keeping some habits on the DL in your marriage is apparently normal, although I bet women aren't the only ones who do this. Just to be sure, I asked a married guy friend. His response: "Sometimes I unplug the Wi-Fi router if I lose an argument." I rest my case. -- Korin Miller is a writer, SEO nerd, wife, and mom to a little two-year-old dude named Miles. A SICK video allegedly showing shamed porn star Ron Jeremy having sex with an 87-year-old woman, who appears to be lack the ability to consent, is being reviewed by investigators in Los Angeles. The video has been sent to the Los Angeles District Attorney's office by a former porn star turned private investigator Paul Barresi. Ron Jeremy was arrested on rape charges on TuesdayCredit: Getty Images - Getty Although Jeremy's face cannot be seen in the footage, Barresi, who used to work with the veteran adult star, says he has positively ID'd him using distinctive marks on his body - as well as his voice. The woman in the video states she was born in 1910 and is 87, suggesting the video was made in the late 90s. She appears confused and uncomfortable throughout. It comes after Jeremy, 67, was arrested on Tuesday and charged with raping three women and assaulting another. He has denied all charges. Paul Barresi said he felt compelled to act after the video was brought to his attentionCredit: Paul Barresi Barresi told The Sun he already sent the video to the FBI in 2014 - and believes some of Jeremy's alleged victims may have been spared if they had acted on the evidence. He said: "Had FBI acted on the complaint and videotape evidence myself and fellow PT Salvatore Grasso provided them in 2014 of Jeremy sexually defiling and debasing a very old woman in her late 80's, perhaps so many of his victims might have been spared. "Video evidence was provided to FBI in 2014 and recently provided to LAPD detectives as evident in my e-mail. "What person in their right mind would have sex with an old, old, old woman, other than someone who has no conscience - someone who has become so jaded over the many decades in porn, irrespective of age, he sees all women as objects. "Objects with whom and to whom he feels he has a right to do with as he pleases. Jeremy appeared in court on Tuesday to face the chargesCredit: AP:Associated Press "Jeremy used power and control to manipulate the old woman. He mocks the old lady, and she appears to not even know it, thereby raising question as to her cognitive ability. "Investigators will have to look into this abuse. What were the circumstances leading up to the old woman consenting to engage in sexual acts on film with Jeremy? Who arranged this? Who set it up and where?" The Los Angeles District Attorney's office declined to comment when approached about the video by The Sun, but emails shared with The Sun confirm they are reviewing the footage. A spokesperson for the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department responded: "I can confirm our investigators continue to receive additional information from a variety of sources and their investigation is ongoing." Adult film actress Ginger Banks released a video in 2017 containing several allegations of sex abuse against Jeremy from different womenCredit: Getty Images The porn star - real name Ron Jeremy Hyatt -faces charges for raping three women, and sexually assaulting a fourth. He is charged with three counts each of rape and forcible penetration by a foreign object, along with one count of forcible oral copulation and sexual battery. The adult film actor, who appeared in Los Angeles County Court on Tuesday, maintained his innocence in a social media statement on Tuesday. 'I am innocent of all charges,' Jeremy tweeted. The Sun revealed how Ginger Banks, a porn star who first exposed a raft of sexual abuse allegations against Jeremy three years ago, has since spoken to 50 other alleged victims. The Sun reached out to Jeremy's attorney for comment and the FBI. It happened out of school hours on Wednesday morning. A young woman picking up her friend after school said even she had heard of the situation, claiming the students had 'locked themselves in the bathroom'. 'Shock. Disbelief. Concern. Sad,' Eric Struble, pictured, described the incident. He is the father of two 15-year-old girls who attend the school Students from the Florida school said that the incident was recorded and circulated on SnapchatLisa Purnell said: 'I've just heard that they were all filming it and I just think it's really wrong. That shouldn't have happened. They locked themselves into the bathroom.' Kevin Ware, a parent, urged that a 'thorough investigation' needed to be carried out. He said: 'Where were the teachers? Just a thorough investigation needs to be done. It's terrible. I feel for the little girl, I feel for her parents. It's just sad.' While another parent, Eric Struble, who has two 15-year-old girls at the school described the incident saying: 'Shock. Disbelief. Concern. Sad,'He added: 'It's our job to protect our children and to teach them right from wrong.' A woman's vagina is a sex organ as well as part of the birth canal. Just as women can have different sized breasts, hands, and feet, the size and depth of vaginas can also vary.According to one study, the average depth of a vagina is about 3.77 inches, which is 9.6 centimeters (cm). Other sources suggest that the average range of size may be about 3 to 7 inches (approximately 7.6-17.7 cm)However, these variations in size are not usually apparent, even to a sexual partner.Share on PinterestThe depth of the vagina is measured from the opening of the vagina to the tip of the cervix, which opens into the uterus.A report in the BJOG: An International Journal of Obstetrics and Gynaecology said that the average depth of the vagina is about 3.77 inches (9.6 cm), but that vaginal depth and appearance can vary widely.In fact, the depth of the vagina (from the opening to the tip of the cervix) can measure anywhere up to 7 inches (17.7 cm).The vagina is the canal to the cervix, which separates the uterus and the vagina.Several types of tissue line the inside of the vagina, including the mucosa. The mucosa is made up of specialized cells that secrete a lubricating fluid, which helps the vaginal walls to stretch.The exterior portion of the female genitals is the vulva. The vulva includes the labia minora and majora — the lip-like parts of the female genitals.The appearance of vulvas varies widely. The skin may be the same color or darker than the rest of the body. The labia majora, which are the external "lips," can vary from around 2.7 to 4.7 inches (7 to 12 cm) in length.The clitoris ranges from about 0.1 to 1.3 inches (5 to 35 mm) in size but swells and enlarges if a woman is aroused.The vagina's size and depth changes in certain situations. It can stretch to accommodate the insertion of a tampon, a finger, or a penis.During arousal, more blood flows to the vagina. This causes the vagina to elongate and the cervix, or tip of the uterus, to lift up slightly, allowing more of a penis, finger, or sex toy to fit in the vagina.While a vagina expands during arousal, a large penis or sex toy can still cause discomfort when having sex.Share on PinterestStudies have not found a difference in vaginal length in women who have given birth and those who have not.The vagina will not change in appearance, as it is internal. In fact, research has found no link between the depth of a person's vagina and their age.However, the labia may appear smaller over time. This is because the amount of estrogen in the body decreases with age, which can reduce fat and collagen.The genitals may also appear to change color, becoming lighter or darker with hormonal changes over time.Some women may find that their vagina feels different following childbirth. While the tissues in the vagina do stretch to accommodate a baby, this is not permanent.Research has found no difference in vaginal length between women who had given birth and those who had not.If a person thinks their vagina feels different after childbirth, a doctor may recommend Kegel exercises, which involve squeezing and releasing the muscles used to control urination to help strengthen the pelvic floor.The average erect penis is about 33 percent longer than the average vagina. While both penis and vagina sizes can vary, these organs can usually accommodate each other.A 2015 study found the average erect penis length to be just over 5 inches (13.12 cm). Some women may report discomfort if their sexual partner has a penis that is larger than average.It may be painful or uncomfortable if an object such as a penis or sex toy hits the cervix. Having adequate lubrication and communicating any discomfort to a partner can help keep sexual activity pleasurable.Share on PinterestChanging pads and tampons frequently will help to keep the vagina healthy.Tips for keeping the vagina healthy include:avoiding douching or using highly fragrances bath products, tampons, or feminine hygiene sprayschanging out of wet clothing and swimsuits as quickly as possible to reduce the risk of infectionchanging pads and tampons frequentlyusing protection during sexual activityrefraining from wearing clothing that is too tight, which can contribute to irritation and excess sweatingirinating after sex to reduce the risk of urinary tract infections (UTIs)The depth and appearance of vaginas vary greatly between individuals. Usually, the depth of the vagina is between 3 and 7 inches.The vagina is an organ that is designed to accommodate both childbirth and sexual activity. However, if a woman is experiencing pain during sex due to what she perceives as a shallow vagina, she should talk to her doctor.Doctors can investigate any underlying causes for the pain, and may refer someone to a specialist. A specialist may recommend pelvic floor therapy or sex therapy, which can make sex more pleasurable regardless of vaginal depth.
