Really, I just love my watch but it really annoys me that it doesn't work properly with my iPhone app, it's far from simple... no NFC, no email, no real agenda... please make a combination like this as efficient as a Samsung phone... Dear Poikiu, we apologize for the inconvenience and will forward your problem to the development team.P Thank you for your patience and understanding. After using the Galaxy S8 with my Active 2 watch (and I'm very happy with it!), I needed a new phone and decided I needed a smaller model. I went with an iPhone 12 mini and never thought that using it with a watch would be a problem. Which later wasn't very smart, as a lot of functionality seems to be lost if you want to pair it with anything from Apple. I think the "fault" in this is somewhere in between, but it's still very disappointing considering people are paying good money for both devices. I don't want to throw away devices, so I'll keep using the Active2 watch until it stops working. But this is definitely something to consider when buying a new watch. Hello! We apologize for the inconvenience caused. There are some limitations due to compatibility issues. Even compared to Android, Galaxy Wearable is still relatively new to iOS. Adding and improving while we go We ask for your understanding. Thank you very much. The app keeps getting stuck saying "Check watch status". Sometimes it takes a few hours, sometimes just a few minutes. It worked better before iOS 13.2. Sometimes days passed with 13.1. I've tried reinstalling, resetting, and re-adding Dance more times than I can count, to no avail. What works consistently (and makes me think your app is broken) is to close and restart the app. I knew the Samsung watch had limited functionality on iOS, but I didn't realize it was pretty much useless. While the Samsung Galaxy Watch is thankfully still a watch, features that require a phone (such as receiving notifications from your phone) simply aren't usable. Dear user, we are very sorry for the problem. Update the Gear software to fix the problem. To update, follow these steps: 1. Make sure the watch is connected to Wi-Fi2. Go to Watch Settings - General/Hardware Info/View Info - tap on Update Watch Software. Let us know how it went. Thank you very much.
