American journey cat food recall

Where is american journey cat food made. Who manufactures american journey cat food. Is american journey cat food aafco approved.

You are what you eat, and this is equally true for cats that depend on us for "the room and the table". In fact, cat food is one of the most important expenses of feline tutelage, along with veterinary care. It is also important lightening that an adequate diet can eliminate or delay veterinary expenses for some serious methods. The ultimate goal of this series is to help you learn to read cat food labels so that your decision-making process is easier to choose the best food for your cat, but first, we need to cover some of the foundations. Protein from a source of meat, fish or poultry calladataurin, an essential amino acid Other vitamins, minerals, enzymes and fatty acids Water cats do not need carbohydrates, although the corn, wheat and rice are used as landfills For canned and dry cat foods. Other ingredients, such as folders, savoring and coloring, are added by cat food manufacturers to meet the consumer's static needs. Although preservatives are necessary, to keep food fresh for our cats, canned food should not be allowed to remain outside during any time, in any case. Many nutritionists agree that cats should receive a variety of food, both dry and canned, for several reasons: while dry food is convenient and can be left for "free feed", canned food contains water, And many cats do not drink water regularly. Make sure your cat gets the correct amount of nutrients. That food "near perfect" you have selected could be too little (or too much) of certain minerals and vitamins. Cats can get bored with the same day of food and output day, and just stop eating. Cool it, â € œodor the morning of pizza, midday and During year? I did not just get bored with your diet, but your health would also suffer. Cats, like humans, develop allergies during a period of time so it is good to provide variety to eliminate possible allergies to certain ingredients. Although the incidence of food allergies in cats is rare, cat owners could want to err Caution side, particularly if your cats have shown evidence of allergies in the past. Impress "food addictions" that are accumulated due to lack of options. The entire cat diary, in its October 2001 edition, quotes the case of a cat that was addicted to a particular flavor of a particular brand of cat food, up to a specific factory and number of lot! This type of addiction can be difficult to treat when you can avoid the last can, but you can easily avoid feeding a variety of foods from the start. This doesn't mean that Fred should get a different food every day, but a variety of high-quality canned foods, complemented by dry foods for the left-on-one cats all day, will add spices to their diet and will prevent them from becoming "Fred Fred Minicky" Paul Bricknell / Getty Images Many cat owners for the first time, in an attempt to keep up the costs, buy the cheapest foods they can. This is a fake economy for a couple of reasons. First, studies have shown that cats eat everything they need to get the nutrients they need. Therefore, they could eat twice that storage brand full of carbohydrates generously to get the nutrients they need in a normal premium food diet. Secondly, the continued feeding of poor foods over a period of years will contribute to a large extent to, or even cause, serious medical conditions that will require costly veterinary care. For these reasons, the old maxima, "you get what you pay," is particularly true, where it's cat food. Compliance with AAFCO's requirements for "complete and balanced", as demonstrated by that writing on the label. Named protein source: seek "powder, turkey, lamb or meat" instead of "meat". In the foodthe source of proteins should be the first listed ingredient, the expiration date for the words of freshness, such as byproducts, "meat of meat and bone," " digest animals," most of the other descriptions, including digesting or added sugars. , bht, etoxyquin, etoxyquin,Propyl Gallateharina of MAAZ as carbohydrate «fillings» filling (dry food may contain up to 50 percent grain) cats are obligated carnivories, and can not prosper with vegetarian diets, although most vegetables may abandon Adde to cat diets, either by the manufacturer or consumer. The composition of the food must comply or exceed the nutrient levels established by AAFCO preservatives, at the level included in Commercial Foods for Company Animals, has never been scientifically demonstrated that cause problems in companion animals (or people) Less than 100 times the levels found in these foods. On the other hand, the current policy of many cat food manufacturers is towards the use of natural preservatives, such as Vitamins C and E. La AAFCO (American Association of Feed Control Officials) is an advisory body that proposes regulations for the Production and labeling of animal feed, including compassion animals' foods. Its members are regulatory officials of feed control agencies from many states, federal agencies (FDA) and similar agencies from Canada and Costa Rica, as members of other interested groups, such as the Institute of Animal Protection, and several veterinary universities. The AAFCO includes a food committees for animal animals, chaired by Mrs. Liz Higgins. Defines terms for labeling, for example, «Comic byproducts.» Defines the quantitative determination for label titles, for example, «Chicken Cat Food», «Chicken Dinner for Cats», Â « Chicken-savored Cat Food. Â »Establishes criteria for the use of« Complete and balanced »in Compañ animal food labels recommends percentages or minimum amounts of various ingredients in company animal food ± ia, depending on the age and level of activity of cats. and works with independent laboratories who perform evidence does not determine the quality of the proteins of "human grade", as sometimes described in pet food labels does not directly suggest standards to label the food specified as â € œOn «hair form »,« Lite »or« Dental care », although the suggested ingredients include certain amounts of protein, fats, etc., for foods for adult cats vs. Kittens or lactating queens If you suspect your pet is sick, call your veterinarian immediately. For health-related issues, always consult your veterinarian, as they have examined your pet, knowing the health history of the pet, and can make the best recommendations for your pet.
