Students should work together in small groups. This game requires students to access Google apps with a Google sign-in. Prior to purchase of this game, please make sure your school district does not block the following apps/websites: Google Apps (Sites, Forms, Docs); and YouTube (presented through SafeShare).This game has been updated to include an alternative Google Slides-based version of the game in addition to the original Google Sites-based version. A copy of the Google Form answer sheet has also been added for teachers who wish to collect responses.Engage your students by having them play this digital escape room game prior to reading Beowulf or at any point during your Beowulf study as a review. Students will work in small groups to solve puzzles. This is a no prep activity--all you need to do is share a link to the game! You can share the link by posting it in your online classroom, by projecting it from your laptop, by writing it on the board, or by printing it out for students. Easy!The game includes a self-checking Google Form, so you can step back and let students pace themselves. Once students break out, they will get a congratulations message they can show to you to let you know they've finished. For differentiation purposes, I've included a teacher guide with visuals and hints to help you coach struggling students. This game should take average high school students about 40 minutes to play--you can adjust the time if needed.Please note that this game is intended to be used as an exploratory/engagement or reinforcement/review activity. It is not intended to take the place of direct instruction.
