We do not want you to waste previous hours reading whole chapters only to discover that your recording is unusable due to a preventable technical glitch. When complete, the editor compiles them into a single recording Solo projects: One experienced volunteer contributes all chapters of the project. Proof listeners catch mistakes we may have missed during the initial recording and editing process. Dramatic Readings and Plays: contributors voice the individual characters. Reader (Narrator) Readers record themselves reading a section of a book, edit the recording, and upload it to the LibriVox Management Tool. We are a totally volunteer, open source, free content, public domain project. For an outline of the Librivox audiobook production process, please see The LibriVox recording process. How To Become A Book Coordinator Metadata coordinators (MCs), help and advise Book Coordinators, and take over the files with the completed recordings (soloists are also Book Coordinators in this sense, as they prepare their own files for the Meta coordinators). One Minute Test We require new readers to submit a sample recording so that we can make sure that your set up works and that you understand how to export files meeting our technical standards. LibriVox is a hope, an experiment, and a question: can the net harness a bunch of volunteers to help bring books in the public domain to life through podcasting? Apologies for the inconvenience. We recommend contributing to collaborative projects before venturing out to solo projects. Proof Listener (PL) Not all volunteers read for LibriVox. LibriVox volunteers are helpful and friendly, and if you post a question anywhere on the forum you are likely to get an answer from someone, somewhere within an hour or so. These projects are then made available on the Internet for everyone to enjoy, for free.
