Feathers	• For flight and survival - Types of feathers 1. Contour feathers - provide lifting force, balance needed for flight 2. Down feathers - trap air close to body, keep the bird warm 3. Preen feathers - found on back that line up w/ to water, release a fine powder that repels water
Reduction of body weight	For efficient flight
Streamlining of joints for flight
Wings	Feared to increase surface area
No external ear lobes	Feathers deeply increased
No external genitalia	When the 1st time a pair, fertilization is internal, growth reduced except during breeding season
Metamorphic bodies	Contour feathers, associated with air and
Streamlined skeletal system	Skull bones fused, bones with air cavities, very light, fused vertebrae, and each vertebrae lock during flight
Long	Developed internally and potentially this can save given birds additional energy supply and additional resources

Evolution of Birds

- Modern birds are thought to have originated
- That large skull with teeth in the beak, 13 bones in each wing, the sternum, belly ribs, long bones and
- Feathers, lightly built body, hollow bones, reduced fingers, fused collar bones

Evolution of Aves

A taxonomic group (clade) of vertebrates, also known commonly as birds, whose distinguishing characteristics include feathers, endothermic and the production of amniotic eggs. Birds evolved from reptiles during the Mesozoic Era about 150 million years ago. It is a large group. About 9,000 living species of birds are known at present 15 to 30 avian orders are recognized depending on the taxonomist.

2. Crocodiles are poikilothermic, lay cleidoic eggs, with body having cornified skin covered with scales and bony plates.
3. In birds the fore limbs are modified to form wings for flight.

Question 5. (a) What is coelom State its significance.

(b) Pick out the organisms that have pseudocoelom from the following : Earthworm, Pinworm, Tapeworm and Roundworm

(c) What is peculiar about the coelom of arthropods? What is such a condition called? Explain.

(d) To which phylum of animalia do the following belong : Octopus, Pila, Chiton and Unio. Comment on their coelom. (CCE 2012)

Answer: (a) Coelom. It is mesoderm lined fluid-filled space that occurs between alimentary canal and body wall. Significance. Coelom suspends and gives shock proof environment to various body organs.

(b) Pseudocoelom. Pinworm, Roundworm.

(c) Coelom of Arthropods. True coelom is reduced. Sinuses or spaces in between the organs enlarge and fuse to form blood filled cavity called haemocoel.

(d) Mollusca. They possess haemocoel.

Question 6. (a) On the basis of characteristics given below, name the phyla :

1. Soft bodied animal with muscular foot, mantle and calcareous shell.
2. Animals which have double layers of cells, single opening and tentacles.
3. Body simple, multicellular, vase-like with pores, opening at one end.
4. Largest group of animals, bilaterally symmetrical, segmented, coelomic cavity is blood filled.

(b) "Star Fish cannot be placed under the phylum of pisces." Explain. (CCE 2012)

Answer: (a)

1. Mollusca
2. Coelenterata
3. Porifera
4. Arthropoda.

(b) Star Fish is an echinoderm with spiny exoskeleton, water vascular system and tube feet. It does not have any fish-like characters (fins, gills, lateral line organs).

Question 7. (a) Write four characteristic features of protochordates.

(b) State reasons for the following :

1. Tapeworms do not have digestive tract.

oiseaux (Aves), encore appelés dinosaures aviens, sont une classe d'animaux vertébrés caractérisée par la bipédie, la disposition des ailes et un bec sans dents. Survivant de l'extinction Crétacé-Paléogène, le groupe des oiseaux est le seul représentant actuel des dinosaures théropodes, tandis que tous les autres groupes de dinosaures, qualifiés de « non aviens », sont ... 18/01/2022 · Characteristics. So, why are cestodes oftentimes called tapeworms? It's because their bodies have a tape-like, segmented shape to it. There are seven categories to classify an individual organism. Taxonomic category classifies the organism in a definite descending order by keeping the kingdom's name first to the following sequence like phylum, class, order, family, genus and species.In this context, we will discuss the definition, important terms and all the seven categories of the taxonomic classification along ... The white-eyes are a family, Zosteropidae, of small passerine birds native to tropical, subtropical and temperate Sub-Saharan Africa, southern and eastern Asia, and Australasia.White-eyes inhabit most tropical islands in the Indian Ocean, the western Pacific Ocean, and the Gulf of Guinea.Discounting some widespread members of the genus Zosterops, most species are ... Invertebrates do not have a backbone. There are different types of invertebrates, but they all share a few characteristics. They are made up of many cells that work together or are multicellular. Most, but not all, have tissues, cells that work together in a more complex way. Most, but not all, can move. There are over 35 phyla of invertebrates.
