Re: FCC ID: V24271 Modular Approval

Dear examiner,

We the undersigned intent to submit for authorization ZB24TM-Z2701, ZB24TM-E2036 under FCC ID: V24271 as a modular approval. This device meets the requirements as a modular device stated in public notice DA00-1407 and summarized below:

1. This modular transmitter has its own RF shielding and will not rely upon the shielding provided by the host into which it is installed in order for all modular transmitter emissions to comply with Part 15 limits, nor will it cause any coupling between the RF circuitry of the module and any wires or circuits in the device into which the module is installed.
2. This modular transmitter has buffered input data according the definition of DA00-1407 and complies with Part 15 requirements under conditions of excessive data rates or over-modulation.
3. The modular transmitter has its own power supply regulation to ensure compliance with Part 15 requirements regardless of the design of the power supplying circuitry in the host device into which the module is installed.
4. This modular transmitter complies with the antenna requirements of FCC rule Title 47 Section 15.203 and 15.204(e). The used antenna is permanently affixed. There is an optional antenna connector, which is only used for internal purposes. This connector is of a unique type.
5. This modular transmitter is tested in a "stand-alone" configuration and not inside any hosting device to ensure compliance with Part 15 emission limits regardless of the host device into which it is eventually installed. All accessories, peripherals, or support equipment connected to the module during testing are unmodified or commercially available.
6. This modular transmitter will be labeled with its own FCC ID number. In the event that the module is installed inside a host device and the FCC ID of the module is not visible the host device will display a label referring to the FCC ID of the enclosed module. We the grantee will either provide such a label to the integrator or instructions explaining this requirement.
