File incompatibility is no longer a problem nowadays. Programs like Free MP4-MP3 Converter lets you transform MP4 clips to MP3 without breaking a sweat. Just how useful though is this tool anyway?Free MP4-MP3 converter may seem like a one-trick pony but it is actually capable of much more.This program can detect your hardware configuration and instinctively optimize a convert scheme. It supports multithreading, meaning the more files you convert, the faster it processes your conversion up to more than 300%. You may also command the program to shut down your machine after all conversions are finished.Free MP4-MP3 Converter is one of the many file format converters available in the market. It allows you to extract MP4 (H.264/MPEG-4 AVC), MKV, OGG, VOB, AVI, WMV, 3GP, 3G2, WebM, RMVB, FLV, and QuickTime MOV video to MP3 format. It's easy to use and comes with several handy features. The best part? It's free!There's more than what meets the eye with the free MP4-MP3 This program allows you to convert multiple files at the same time and avoid the tedious task of transforming one clip after the other. You may also customize the size of your output file, with the software automatically calculating its Bitrate.Ease of useYou don't need to go through hoops to get the Free MP4-MP3 Converter. The software is free of charge.The desktop client has a simple and intuitive interface. Tabs, settings, and options are easy to understand. Converting audio is a piece of cake. Simply click on the add file button, select your desired file, and hit convert. You may also select multiple files and convert them all at once without any hassle. If you feel a little lost, click on the help button on the top right part and you'll be directed to a knowledge base filled with useful articles.Where can you run this program?The software works on Windows Platform only. You can download the desktop client for your Window 10, XP, Vista, 7, 8, and 8.1 PC. Sadly, the program's developers have yet to create a client for Mac and Linux users. The same goes for Android and iOS users.Is there a better alternative?If you're still not convinced about Free MP4-MP3 Converter's features, there's a handful of programs of its kind available. You can download fre:ac, which is an open source audio converter and CD ripper that supports various formats and codecs. There's a number of options for you to convert your audio file into MP3, MP4/M4A, WMA, Small Vorbis iconVorbis, Small FLAC, FLAC, AAC, WAV, and more. This converter can also keep your files organized, allowing you to convert your entire music library while retaining the folder and filename structure.Freemake Audio Converter also does the same and has around 50+ audio formats you can transform your files into. It boasts over 63 million users and more than 110 awards from tech experts earned throughout its seven years in the business. It's available only on Windows.Free MP4-MP3 Converter may not look like a necessity, given the resources found online, but it is actually quite practical. You don't have to rummage through several platforms online just to convert files. Perfect for those who do so on a daily basis.Should you download it?Yes. Free MP4-MP3 Converter is simple and easy to use. If you plan on converting a number of MP4 clips to your phone or wherever else, this tool can be of good use. It's perfect for people who aren't too adept with file conversion. Everything is pretty straightforward; you no longer need to fumble with control. It does exactly what it says it will do. By Amanda Kondolojy Although using the Zune Marketplace services by Microsoft is a great play to download music, having to pay for each song discourages some portable media users. Fortunately, there are several ways to get songs for free for a Zune. Find out where your Zune music folder is. If you're not sure, open the Zune software, and find the folder in the Settings menu. Make a note of this because any free tracks you want to download will be saved here. Find free music services. Royalty Free Music offers free music that is legal to download, but most of it is by independent or classical artists. If you want more popular music, then you can use ad-supported services like Spiral Frog to download free music. The Resource section below contains links to these websites. Download the music. When you find a track you like, follow the download protocol (most websites have a button), and click "Save As." When you are prompted to browse for the file's ultimate destination, find the folder you located in Step 1. Then name the file, and hit "Save." Repeat this step for each song downloaded. Open the Zune software. New files will begin to appear in the center pane of the software. The tracks will appear blank at first, but as Zune recognizes the files, they will be updated with album art and information. Plug the Zune in, and wait for it to sync automatically (if this feature is enabled), or drag the files over to the Zune icon in the bottom-left corner of the program. Who doesn't love being in love? That's why it's no surprise songs about love are so common. When you meet someone you really connect with, it's hard not to be giddy. You become the friend you were always mildly annoyed by before: the girl who brings their crush/significant other/love interest up in conversation at the weakest connection, the person who starts talking in plural first-person pronouns (We really love that movie! We went to dinner there last week!). In short, you will most likely become insufferable. But hey, that's what happens when you fall in love.Here's the good news: You generally get a pass. At least in the first few months, your family and friends will understand — and tolerate — your somewhat irrational behavior. And even if they don't, you don't care because, hey — you're in love! You have a cool person in your life that wants to hold your hand and cuddle and tell you you're awesome. Someone who wants to go to brunch together. A person who texts you funny pictures or emails you a video or picks up a book he or she thought you might like. And you get to do all of these things, too, in return, which is just as fun.Of course, the giddiness fades with time as the relationship becomes deeper, but why not bring back those sweet memories with a little music? Whether you have someone in your life now or just hope that you'll fall in love someday, here are 27 songs to remind you why new love is one of the strongest, greatest forces in the world.1. "At Last," Etta JamesThis song will give you all the feels. All. The. Feels. Just reread these lyrics:"At last my love has come alongMy lonely days are over and life is like a song, oh yeahAt last the skies above are blueMy heart was wrapped up clover the night I looked at you"Etta, you are a goddess, and your songs are a gift to the world. The world that is in love.2. "Can't Help Falling in Love," Elvis PresleyWho doesn't love The King? His voice is heavenly as he sings:"Like a river flows surely to the seaDarling so it goesSome things are meant to beTake my hand, take my whole life tooFor I can't help falling in love with you"It honestly should make you want to slowly drift asleep with your favorite person in the world, holding hands.3. "I Say a Little Prayer," Aretha FranklinIf you've ever seen "My Best Friend's Wedding," you know why this song is awesome. Enough said. But if you need more of a reason, just listen to the words:"My darling, believe meFor me there is no one but youPlease love me trueI'm in love with youAnswer my prayer, babySay you'll love me trueAnswer my prayer, baby"4. "Drunk in Love," Beyoncé & Jay-ZHey, we've all been in the lust phase, right? The I-Can't-Keep-My-Hands-Off-You-And-I-Don't-Care-Who-Sees time in your love, usually at the beginning. The lyrics speak for themselves:"We woke up in the kitchen saying, 'How the hell did this sh*t happen?'Oh baby, drunk in love we be all nightLast thing I remember is ourBeautiful bodies grinding off in that clubDrunk in love"See? This song is the perfect soundtrack for that phase. 5. "Love song," The CureThere's something quite perfect about this song. It's so wonderfully '80s. And the lyrics are simply sweet:"Whenever I'm alone with youYou make me feel like I am home againWhenever I'm alone with youYou make me feel like I am whole again"6. "Wonderful Tonight," Eric ClaptonEric Clapton, who are you? This song is almost too sweet with lyrics such as:"I feel wonderful because I seeThe love light in your eyesAnd the wonder of it allis that you just don't realize how much I love you"It's the type of narrative that makes you wish, hope, and pray that someone will someday feel even a fraction of the emotions communicated in this song. Because that would be awesome.7. "Make You Feel My Love," AdeleIt's kind of hard to pick just one Adele song for this type of list, but this one is beautiful as she belts out:"I know you haven't made your mind up yetBut I will never do you wrongI've known it from the moment that we metNo doubt in my mind where you belong"Adele's voice is the kind that is just meant to sing songs about love.8. "Just The Way You Are," Billy JoelHere's an excerpt of the lyrics:"Don't go changing to try and please meYou never let me down beforeDon't imagine you're too familiarAnd I don't see you anymore"This is basically the music version of that scene in Bridget Jones' Diary when Darcy tells Bridget he likes her "just as you are." Swooooon.9. "Baby Love," The SupremesThere are all types of love. This song speaks to the kind where you're not really sure if the dude is into you but he sometimes throws you a text at 2:34 a.m., so maybe he actually loves you? "My baby love, I need ya oh how I need yaWhy you do me like you doAfter I've been true to youSo deep in love with you"Eh, let it go. But know that everyone experiences this type of terrible, gut-wrenching, one-sided love, at least once. This is your anthem.10. "I'll Make Love To You," Boyz II MenTHIS SONG THOUGH. Case in point?"Pour the wine, light the fireGirl your wish is my commandI submit to your demandsI will do anythingGirl you need only ask"11. "I Don't Want to Miss a Thing," AerosmithIf there's one good thing that came out of the 1998 science-fiction-disaster-slash-thriller film Armageddon, it's this song. Plus, the chorus is an undeniable classic:"Don't want to close my eyesI don't want to fall asleepCause I'd miss you, babeAnd I don't want to miss a thing"12. "Stuck On You," MeikoThis song will make you want to ride a tandem bicycle with an adorable person on your way to a perfectly executed picnic on a spring day. It's just that cute."You are so dreamyFeel like I'm in the moviesI feel so happy I'm stuck on you"How sweet is that?13. "You Are The Best Thing," Ray LaMontagneWhen you're falling hard, that other person can do no wrong. They're basically The. Best. Person. In. The. World. The lyrics are pretty straightforward:"And, babyThe way you move me, it's crazyIt's like you see right through meAnd make it easierBelieve me, you don't even have to tryOh, becauseYou are the best thing"14. "Bonfire Heart," James BluntHonestly, this song is way better than that one James Blunt was famous for a few years ago. The lyrics are even poetic:"Days like these lead toNights like this leads toLove like oursYou light the spark in my bonfire heartPeople like us we don't need that much just someone that startstarts the spark in our bonfire hearts"15. "You and I," Ingrid MichaelsonThe ukulele? Enough said. Michaelson sweetly sings:"Well you might be a bit confusedYou might be a little bit bruisedBut baby how we spoon like no one elseSo I will help you read those booksI'll try to soothe my worried looksAnd we will put the lonesome on the shelf"16. "Home," Edward Sharpe & The Magnetic ZerosCome on, you definitely know these lyrics:"Alabama, ArkansasI do love my ma and paNot that way that I do love youHoly moley, me oh myYou're the apple of my eyeGirl, I've never loved one like you"The only way to listen to this song is to imagine yourself in some dive bar with a bearded fella, drinking whiskey-lemonades and making out near the iconic Big Buck Hunter game.17. "A Walk Through Hell," Say AnythingUgh, one of the best things about being in love is being able to say outlandish things like "I'd walk through hell for you," and get away with it. Say Anything understands with words like these:"And if I could swimI'd swim out to you in the oceanSwim out to where you were floatingIn the darkAnd if was blessedI walk on the water you're breathingTo lend you some air for that heavingSunken chest"Yeah, they totally understand.18. "I Want to Belong to You," Katie HerzigLook, you should definitely be your own, independent person, even when you're in love, because hey, you belong to no one! But this song is adorable (see lyrics below), so, it gets a pass."Have I ever seen such kindnessSuch resigned delight all in one glanceRight when you pass meI watch, you seeYou smile, I breatheAir in my chestI'm trying my best"19. "Thinking Out Loud," Ed SheeranEd says it best: "And I'm thinking 'bout how people fall in love in mysterious waysMaybe just the touch of a handOh me I fall in love with you every single dayAnd I just wanna tell you I am"It's hard to pinpoint the reasoning, but that's half the fun.20. "Latch (Acoustic)," Sam SmithSam Smith has the voice of an angel. Try not to fall in love with whoever is the closest to you when you're listening to this song:"I'm so encaptured, got me wrapped up in your touchFeel so enamored, got me tight within your clutchHow do you do it, you got me losing every breathWhat did you give me to make my heart beat out of my chest?Just try.21. "Love Is Beginning," Imaginary FutureThe best part of love is the moment it starts. The part when you realize what's happening, how you're feeling, and what it really, truly means for your life. These lyrics capture exactly that:"Oh look how the colors are changingNew stars appear in the night skyThis heart is starting to come to life"22. "What I Wouldn't Do," A Fine FrenzyLove makes us do some pretty wild things. And some adorable things, like bake each other mud pies. No, really, that's part of the song:"If we were children I would bake you a mud pieWarm and brown beneath the sunNever learned to climb a tree but I would tryJust to show you what I'd done"23. "Us," Regina SpektorThe song that makes you want to find your very own Joseph Gordon-Levitt, à la (500) Days of Summer. Spektor sings:"They'll name a city after usAnd later say it's all our faultThen they'll give us a talking toCause they've got years of experience"24. "P.D.A. (We Just Don't Care)," John LegendWe all know that kissing on the subway is not cute when you're not the one doing it, but that won't stop us when we have someone to do it with. Plus, as Legend's lyrics make clear, he doesn't care what people think:"You know I love you when you loving meSometimes it's better when it's publiclyI'm not ashamed I don't care who seesJust hugging & kissing our love exhibition all"25. "Be My Baby," The RonettesThis song should make you want to put your hair in a killer bouffant, apply some classic red lipstick and go to the drive-in with your honey."I'll make you happy, baby, just wait and seeFor every kiss you give me I'll give you threeOh, since the day I saw youI have been waiting for youYou know I will adore you 'til eternity"26. "That Thing You Do!," The WondersWarning: This song will 100% be stuck in your head for days after hearing it. So prepare to be singing these words all day long:"You, doing that thing you doBreaking my heart intoA million pieces, Like you always doAnd you don't mean to be cruel, Ya never even knewAbout the heartacheI've been going through"27. "I Will Always Love You," Whitney HoustonThere's no one better than Whitney. And there's no love song better than this one. Exhibit A:"I hope life treats you kindAnd I hope you have all you've dreamed ofAnd I wish to you joy and happinessBut above all this, I wish you loveAnd I will always love you"Exhibit B? Those vocals. Case closed.This post was originally published on Dec. 5, 2014. It was updated on June 3, 2019.
