

Click to prove you're human

Morning music for classroom

Playing some relaxing music during learning breaks can help settle everyone's minds and refuel our reserves so we can tackle the rest of the day. Regardless of whether you and your students prefer nature sounds, guitar strumming, or piano music, there is truly something for everyone out there. Oftentimes, relaxing music for kids to play in the classroom is accompanied by a video with peaceful imagery. Soothing sights and music can help settle big emotions following a particularly stressful event like standardized testing. Music in the classroom has so many benefits including (but not limited to) improving mood, assisting in cognitive development, and enhancing creativity. Check out our favorite selections of relaxing music for the classroom! These peaceful tunes will certainly give growing minds a well-deserved break. This light instrumental hang-drum song is perfect after a stressful morning. While school can sometimes be stressful for students (and teachers!), the strumming of this guitar will chase your worries away! This instrumental selection should be featured on any list of relaxing music for kids to play in the classroom. The underwater sounds will wash your cares away so you can think more clearly! Regardless of whether students are writing, studying, reading, or doing homework, this video will help create a positive learning environment. Listen to the music of Debussy and more while watching a slide show of beautiful paintings. The calming and rhythmic sounds of the ocean can feel so soothing to busy minds. The sweet plucking in this video feels so positive and refreshing. Practice some meditation in your classroom while you mellow out to the sounds of birds chirping and water flowing. Regardless of whether or not you love Minecraft, this instrumental soundtrack is great for a break between lessons. What's better than a relaxing video that includes piano music? One that also features soothing guitar strumming! Wh When the mid-morning doldrums appear, try this choice for relaxing music for the classroom. This video is so uplifting and sweet and perfect for a well-earned break or even for study time. This video exposes students to classical music. It features a violin performance of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons, Concerto No. 4 in F minor." This plucky video can help with time management since it features a 3-minute timer. You can also try this one for classical music. Also check out the 1-minute, 5-minute, and 20-minute timers! Perfect for promoting calm and mindfulness and also an appreciation for nature and the world around us. Disney movies have arguably the best soundtracks out there, so why not play this collection of relaxing instrumental songs in your classroom? The calming jazz music in this video is perfect for the start of school since it will call to mind the crisp fall air and changing leaves. The tranquil music in this video will help students focus while reading a favorite book or studying for a big exam. This beautiful song from the movie Amelie would calm anyone, but if you teach French, you have even more reason to play it! This video proves that relaxing music for the classroom can be equally adorable and soothing! This flute music will have your students in a Zen state in no time! While drums are often thought of as being noisy, this video proves that they can be calming as well. Do you and your students find the sound of rain relaxing, but the skies are clear? This video provides the perfect soothing backdrop to any classroom. What's better than a calm-down corner? A calm-down corner that features this video of lanterns floating while calming music plays! Make the first moments your students spend in the classroom fun and memorable! With these ideas for morning music to play when your students come in, you'll be the hippest teacher in the building!As always, before playing any music with your students, listen to it first and make sure it is appropriate for your school. We suggest putting your favorite morning beats on a playlist that is set to repeat! Have fun!Find it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyFind it Here on SpotifyWhat are your favorite morning music songs to play for your students? Share with us! We'd love to know what motivates you and your students!